Business premises type

The type of property available in Canterbury plays a key role in determining the extent, and also the type, of businesses that will locate here in the future. Each premise within the study area has been categorised into 11 categories. The following graph illustrates the premises type in Canterbury:

Graph 2.1 - Premises type in Canterbury

City centre footfall

The footfall of the City Centre is extremely hard to measure without investment however; the best indicator is to look at the car park and public transport user data:

Graph 4.1 – City centre transportation usage YOY

Source: Canterbury City Council Transportation Department Car Park data, Stagecoach East Kent, Whitefriars Car Park Data and Southeastern.

Key Findings

- Overall footfall was down -1.7% YOY in January which is a -1.6% decrease on December (-0.1 % YOY) but a -6.1% decrease on January 2015.
- January was a mixed picture with car and coach travel increasing and park & ride, train and bus travel decreasing. However it should be noted that coach travel was down -36.7% YoY in 2015 when the coach park was under water due to persistent wet weather. With the exception of September 2014 the coach park has seen a decline in usage YOY over the last twenty eight months. The increase in the coach parking charges could have had an impact on this result as well as the security concerns on the near continent.

Business sales performance

Canterbury has no problem getting large numbers of people in the city but distributing them across the centre and getting them to part with their hard earned cash is more of a challenge. Therefore footfall tells only part of the story and trader sales performance figures are important. The below graph illustrates business' average percentage change in sales compared to the same month in 2015.
